Upgrade to NBX and Save 80% on Licenses

Enjoy exceptional savings on your phone licenses when participating in the 3Com NBX Upgrade Program between October 1, 2009 and Decmeber 31, 2009!

Trade in your PBX Chassis—3Com or competitor—for the NBX® V3001 Analog Platform or NBX V3001R Redundant Platform and save 80% on select licenses (see list of eligible licenses on page 2).

The 3Com® NBX V3001 analog platform is a full-featured IP telephony solution designed for small- and medium-sized organizations moving to a Voice over Internet Protocol (VoIP) architecture. Its ease of use allows non-technical personnel to make individual or system-wide changes with the click of a mouse.

The 3Com NBX V3001R platform is a full-featured, easy to use solution designed to maximize the up time of an organization's IP telephony services. The "R" in the platform's name represents "Redundancy" and highlights an architecture built to maximize operational uptime. With dual standard power supplies, the platform assures continuity of telephony services in the event of a power component failure. Optionally, a redundant configuration of hard drives (RAID level 1) is supported so information can be automatically written to an alternative hard disk.
